

Getting ready to work in Australia

The information you need to know, and how to find it.

As an international student working in Australia, you have the same protections as any Australian in the workplace. Here are some things you need to know, and a checklist to make sure you are well prepared.

Your pay

Australia has a minimum wage. You must be paid at least this amount – it's the law!

What is a minimum wage?

- The minimum wage goes up every year and depends on the work you do. So, do your research to find out how much you should be getting paid this year.

How do I find out my minimum wage?

Q Search "FWO Pay and Conditions Tool"

- This is a tool from the Fair Work Ombudsman. It will help you find out the minimum wage for your work.

Paying tax

If you're working in Australia, you might need to pay tax depending on how much you earn. Get a Tax File Number (TFN) before starting work. Give your TFN to your boss to make sure you do not pay more tax than you should. Only apply for a TFN once – it is yours for life!

How do I get a TFN?

- You can apply for a TFN online for free.

Q Search "apply TFN ATO"

- Make sure you use the official ATO (Australian Taxation Office) website.

Do I need a TFN or ABN?

- Some jobs may ask you to work under an Australian Business Number or ABN. This is when you are considered self-employed.
- You might not need an ABN. If you only work in fixed locations, report to a boss or manager, have a similar schedule each week and get paid the same amount each hour – a TFN might be all you need.

Tip: If you are working under an ABN, you still need to pay tax AND you need to have your own insurance.

Payslips

In Australia, you must get a payslip within one working day of getting paid. Normally, workers get paid weekly, fortnightly (every two weeks) or monthly. The payslip is an important document.

What can I find on my payslip?

- A payslip shows you the number of hours you have worked. It also tells you how much you have earned and how much tax has been taken out from your pay.

What to do if I have not received my payslip?

- Inform your boss or manager that you didn't get your payslip. Normally, it is just a mistake. They must provide it for you when you ask.

Tip: Getting an Australia bank account makes it easier for you to get paid.

Q Search "student bank account"

Work hours

Remember – as an international student you can work up to 40 hours every two weeks during term time, and unlimited hours during your holiday breaks. It is important you keep to this limit – it is what you agreed to when you were given your student visa.

Casual work

In Australia, you will find many casual roles. In casual work, you don't have a fixed number of hours every week. This means you can manage your own time better.

How can I keep track of my work hours?

- First, make sure your boss knows about your 40-hour working limit. If they do not know this, they might ask you to do extra hours.
- Also, download the 'FWO Record my Hours' app – it's a great tool in many languages that will help you keep track of how many hours you have worked.

What's different about casual work?

- If you get a casual job, you might get paid more than regular part-time work. Your hourly pay could increase by up to 25%. This is called 'casual loading', and it is extra money. Remember, you won't get any sick pay or holiday pay as a casual worker.

How can I find casual jobs?

🔍 Search "casual jobs for students"

- Find out what is available for international students. There is a variety of jobs to choose from.
